Just outside Atherton, in a unique hilltop setting, is a luxury award winning hideaway overlooking the Tableland.

Trish and Peter Jones created Allawah Retreat to be 'luxury amongst nature' and we think they've succeeded, with three spa lodges among the Eucalypts, each with fabulous views.

Allawah (Aboriginal for 'sit down, stay here and rest a while') is a place to rejuvenate, to relax with nature and to revel in luxury. The lodges are huge, each with a separate bedroom, ensuite, large lounge and kitchenette. Our favourite feature is the enormous spa on the large deck – what better way to enjoy the views than from your own spa with a glass of bubbly in hand!

While you 'rest a while', you can spot birds (the Tableland hosts around one third of the world's bird species), rock wallabies and other native wildlife.

Breakfast provisions which provide all you'll need to cook up a storm, include Trish's home-baked bread, delivered hot to your Lodge. Bush walks, the famous Tolga woodworks and restaurants are all within easy reach.

Location: 89km or 1¼ hours south-west of Cairns. Map 8. RA 11, D12. RM 1.

Facilities: Three Lodges (two with king bed, one queen, one with surround sound home theatre) each with spa on deck, fireplace, fans, screens, kitchenette, DVD, CD (library), laundry. Some with AC. 'Honey Gem' also has a courtyard with plunge pool. BBQ and BBQ packs available.
